Miss Theodosia Osbourne Culver was married last night to Henry Beard Armes, son of Hon. Chas. H. Armes, former assistant district attorney, at St. Andrew's Church, in the presence of several hundred guests, by the Rev. J. B. Perry. The bride, who was escorted by her brother-in-law, Thaddeus M. Jones, of this city, had as attendants her sister, Mrs. Jones, matron of honor, and her two small sisters, the Misses Jessie and Elizabeth Armes, as bridesmaids. The bride wore a frock of panne crepe, trimmed with lace, and a long tulle veil, and carried Bride roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Jones' toilette was white crepe, and those of the two little bridesmaids were white silk mull.

William A. Mearns, a cousin of the groom, was best man, and Henry Beard, David Laurence Chambers, John E. Laskey, Walter H. Henney, Sherman Doyle, and John Stenar were the ushers. The music, which was played by the church organist, was limited to wedding marches. After the wedding, there being no reception, Mr. and Mrs. Armes started immediately on a wedding tour. They will return and be at home to their friends about June 1, at the Iowa.

The First Congregational Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday night, when Miss Helen A. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis, of Koma Heights, and William A. She carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was Mrs. Albert F. Woods, sister of the bride, who wore a frock of white organdie and carried Bridesmaid roses. The bridesmaids, who both had gowns of silk mousseline and carried Bridesmaid roses, were Miss Emma Holdsworth, a cousin of the bride, of Pen Yan, N. Y., and Miss Alice A. Orton, sister of the groom, of Fairfax, Va.

A. V. Clark, of Geneva, N. Y., was best man, and the ushers were M. B. Waite, Kirk Holmes, Allen A. Davis, W. L. Symons, Duncan Stuart, Dr. Joseph S. Chamberlain, Dr. R. E. B. McKenney, and Carleton R. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Orton left Monday night for a Southern trip. They will live in Takoma Heights.

The bride and groom entered the drawing room together, their only attendants being two little pages, Scott Fitzgerald and Jack Garland. The Rev. Father Fardow, S. J., of New York, an intimate friend of the bride's family, performed the ceremony, after which a wedding breakfast was served.
